

ABOUT US

Results-oriented and responsive, Tarlow, Breed, Hart & Rodgers, P.C. is committed to providing high quality, comprehensive legal services to its clients, guiding them through the negotiation and consummation of a transaction or through the judicial process of dispute resolution.

Formed in 1991, we have focused our practice on providing sophisticated legal counsel to entrepreneurs, businesses, individuals, families and institutions. We offer expertise in corporate law, employment matters, mergers and acquisitions, litigation and dispute resolution, estate planning, taxation, real estate, bankruptcy and municipal law. The firm's partners (members of the professional corporation) and their particular areas of ability present a combination of experience and perspective that covers a broad range of business issues and individual concerns.

Tarlow, Breed, Hart & Rodgers, P.C. is a member of the International Business Law Consortium (IBLC). Established in 1996, the IBLC comprises over 100 independent law firms, tax advisers and business consultancies providing a range of easily accessible services around the world. The IBLC was established by The Centre for International Legal Studies, which promotes the dissemination of information among members of the international legal community.

Our objective in every case is to help clients make informed decisions and achieve their goals. From initial meeting to resolution, the firm's partners are accessible and communicative, working directly with clients. By carefully listening and utilizing our expertise and firm resources, we find creative solutions for our clients. This approach has resulted in lasting relationships of trust and confidence with our clients.
